

Political Protest and Cultural Revolution: Nonviolent Direct Action in the 1970s and 1980s

Author: Barbara Epstein [1]

University of California Press, Berkeley CA, 1991, pp. 327

Covers environmental/peace/feminist protest in the USA, analysing key ideas and organising methods, as well as evolution of some major campaigns, for example against the Seabrook nuclear energy plant and the Livermore nuclear weapons laboratory.

Source URL (modified on 09/12/2016 - 12:23): <http://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/1991/political-protest-and-cultural-revolution-nonviolent-direct-action-1970s-and-1980s>

Links

[1] <http://civilresistance.info/author/249>