

Gandhi as Disciple and Mentor

Author: Thomas Weber [1]

Cambridge University Press, Cambridge, 2005, pp. 294

Part II discusses various influences on Gandhi, and Part III Gandhi's influence on Arne Naess (ecology), Johan Galtung (peace research), E.F. Schumacher (economics as if people mattered), and Gene Sharp (nonviolent action as a method).

Source URL (modified on 23/08/2016 -

15:57):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2005/gandhi-disciple-and-mentor>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/50>