

Freedom Over the Airwaves: From the Czech Coup to the Fall of the Berlin Wall

Author: Jaques Sémelin [1]

International Center on Nonviolent Conflict, Washington, D.C., 2017, pp. 312 (pb)

Eminent French historian and theorist of nonviolent resistance explores the links between media of communication and nonviolent campaigns, focusing on key examples of resistance in Communist Eastern Europe from 1948-1989.

Source URL (modified on 21/05/2020 - 18:55):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2017/freedom-over-airwaves-czech-coup-fall-berlin-wall>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2348>