

The World Peace Brigade: Vision and Failure

Author: Theodore Olson [1]

In: Our Generation Against Nuclear War, Vol 3, No 1, 1961, pp. 34-41

The World Peace Brigade was founded in 1962 to develop the potential of transnational action. Its first project in Central Africa was planning a march in support of Zambian claims to independence (the march became unnecessary); the second was the Delhi Peking Friendship March to promote understanding at the time of the brief border war between India and China.

For more on the Brigade, see Prasad, Devi, War is a Crime Against Humanity: The Story of War Resisters' International, London, War Resisters' International, 2005, pp. 325-31.

Source URL (modified on 23/08/2016 - 15:57): <https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/1961/world-peace-brigade-vision-and-failure>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/243>