

Law, Morality and Vietnam: The Peace Militants and the Courts

Author(s): John F. Bannan [1], Rosemary Bannan [2]

Indiana University Press, Bloomington IN, 1974, pp. 241

Explores the conflict between law and morality, and case for civil disobedience, with reference mainly to six well known prosecutions, including: the Fort Hood Three (GIs who refused to be posted to Vietnam); Dr Spock and others in 1967-68 charged with conspiracy to violate draft laws; and Daniel and Philip Berrigan and five other who burnt draft files at Catonsville in 1968.

Source URL (modified on 30/11/2016 -

15:34):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/1974/law-morality-and-vietnam-peace-militants-and-courts>

Links

[\[1\] https://civilresistance.info/author/1784](https://civilresistance.info/author/1784) [\[2\] https://civilresistance.info/author/1785](https://civilresistance.info/author/1785)