

Rethinking Unionism: An Alternative Vision for Northern Ireland

Author: Norman Porter [1]

The Blackstaff Press, Belfast, 1998, pp. 252

Originally published: 1996

Advocates a 'civic unionism' which acknowledges both the Britishness and Irishness of Northern Ireland. To quote from the Preface it 'accommodates questions of cultural identity, liberal emphases on the entitlements of individuals and a substantive understanding of politics in which the practice of dialogue is central'.
