

Revolution 2.0: The Power of the People is Greater than the People in Power

Author: Wael Ghonim [1]

Fourth Estate, London, 2012, pp. 308

Memoir of activist who works for Google and focused particularly on promoting the revolution online. He anonymously ran the Facebook page demanding justice for Khaled Said, a young man beaten to death by police in Alexandria in June 2010, and promoted brief demonstrations, for example a 'silent stand' by people wearing black and holding hands to express their anger at the lack of justice for Khaled. The Facebook page attracted over 350,000 members.

Source URL (modified on 23/08/2016 - 15:57):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2012/revolution-20-power-people-greater-people-power>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/1120>