

Peace, Power & Politics: How New Zealand Became Nuclear Free

Author: Maire Leadbeater [1]

Otago University Press, Dunedin, 2013, pp. 344

Maire Leadbeater provides an insider's view of the last 40 years of New Zealand's peace movement and the fight for a nuclear free country. She was secretary and then spokesperson for Auckland's Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, and participated to the anti-nuclear weapons protests in the 1970s and 1980s.

Source URL (modified on 05/06/2020 - 17:50):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2013/peace-power-politics-how-new-zealand-became-nuclear-free>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3039>