

---

Argentina's abortion vote was a stepping stone not a setback

Author: Belski Mariela [1]

In: Time, 2018

In a positive light, Belski discusses the advances in the fight to legalise abortion in Argentina, despite the Senate refusing to pass a bill legalising abortion in 2018. She notes the change in language by the media whilst referring to women and men; the establishment of mainstream discourses on sexual harassment and gender-based violence, and the recognition of the symbolic power of the handkerchiefs that identify the widespread pro-choice movement in Argentina and the rest of Latin America.

See also <http://socialistworker.org/2018/08/16/the-people-versus-the-parliament-in-argentina> [2]

For the re-launch of the campaign for legal abortion see <https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/02/abortion-rights-campaigners-flood-streets-buenos-aires-190220143549930.html> [3]

Available online at:

<http://time.com/5363764/argentina-abortion-vote-progress/> [4]

---

Source URL (modified on 19/05/2020 -

15:51):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/argentinas-abortion-vote-was-stepping-stone-not-setback>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2957> [2] <http://socialistworker.org/2018/08/16/the-people-versus-the-parliament-in-argentina> [3] <https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/02/abortion-rights-campaigners-flood-streets-buenos-aires-190220143549930.html> [4] <http://time.com/5363764/argentina-abortion-vote-progress/>