

CND at 60: Britain's Most Enduring Mass Movement

Author: Kate Hudson [1]

Public Reading Rooms, UK, 2018, pp. 240 (pb)

This book by the General Secretary of CND was published on the 60th anniversary of the launch of CND in February 1958. It covers both the major campaigns within the nuclear disarmament movement of the first three decades, including the Aldermaston marches and Greenham Common. It also charts the evolving role of CND after 1990: becoming prominent in the resistance to Britain's involvement in wars in the Middle East and Afghanistan; and more recently supporting the movement to achieve the UN Treaty to ban all nuclear weapons. CND has also continued to focus on opposing British production and deployment of nuclear weapons, and in particular the government's decision to renew the Trident missile force.

Source URL (modified on 14/08/2020 -

23:09):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/cnd-60-britains-most-enduring-mass-movement>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/1722>