

---

Honduran women pay for rights with their lives

Author: Elizabeth McSheffrey [1]

In: National Observer, 2018

This interactive long report explores the killing of Berta Cáceres, environmentalist and recipient of the Goldman Environmental Prize, and contextualises it within the emergence of a cohesive feminist movement in Honduras. It also reports the statistics on violence against women in the country, and initiatives to tackle it.

Available online at:

<https://www.nationalobserver.com/2018/03/01/honduran-women-are-leading-rights-revolution-how-many-lives-will-it-cost-them> [2]

---

Source URL (modified on 13/05/2020 - 20:39):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/honduran-women-pay-rights-their-lives>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2813> [2] <https://www.nationalobserver.com/2018/03/01/honduran-women-are-leading-rights-revolution-how-many-lives-will-it-cost-them>