

Rebuilding the antinuclear movement

Author(s): Ray Acheson [1], Loreta Castro [2], Beatrice Fihn [3], Linnet Ngayu [4], Carlos Umaña [5]

In: The Nation, 2018

Discusses dominant narratives about nuclear weapons as tools of “safety” and “security” and “peace,” and the need to reinforce of a mass social movement against nuclear weapons. The authors also outline the emergence and core activities of the International Coalition to Abolish Nuclear Weapons (ICAN).

On ICAN see <https://www.icanw.org> [6]

Available online at:

<https://www.thenation.com/article/rebuilding-antinuclear-movement/> [7]

Source URL (modified on 11/06/2020 - 16:08): <https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/rebuilding-antinuclear-movement>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3079>

[2] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3080>

[3] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3081>

[4] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3082>

[5] <https://civilresistance.info/author/3083>

[6] <https://www.icanw.org>

[7] <https://www.thenation.com/article/rebuilding-antinuclear-movement/>