

Rethinking New Womanhood: Practices Of Gender, Class, Culture And Religion In South Asia

Editor: Nazia Hussein [1]

Palgrave Macmillan, London, 2018, pp. 231

A collection of essays by feminist scholars and activists in South Asia outlining the development of feminism in India, Bangladesh and Pakistan over the last decade with regard to the social embodiment of women, television representations, LGTB discourses, domestic violence, and the “new” feminism.

Source URL (modified on 18/05/2020 - 15:38):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/rethinking-new-womanhood-practices-gender-class-culture-and-religion-south-asia>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2882>