

---

Women and Gendered Violence in Canada: An Intersectional Approach

Author(s): Chris Bruckert [1], Tuullia Law [2]

University of Toronto Press, Toronto, 2018, pp. 416

This book draws on a range of theoretical traditions emerging from feminism, criminology, and sociology, to challenge the narrow idea that domestic violence and sexual assault are phenomena of interpersonal violence perpetrated by men. The authors highlight the diversity of women's experience, discuss the role social structures play, and include discussions of workplace and state violence. The first section develops the conceptual and contextual framework, and the following three sections focus on types of victimization: interpersonal, in the workplace, and by the state. Accounts of individual experiences are used throughout to personalize the issues discussed.

---

Source URL (modified on 16/04/2020 -

18:13):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2018/women-and-gendered-violence-canada-intersectional-approach>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2632> [2] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2633>