

Religion in the African Public Square: Examining the Role of Religion in African Women's Reproductive Rights

Author: lakeisha Harrison [1]

Howard University , Washington D.C., 2019, pp. 175

This study examines of how religion (Christianity, Islam and indigenous religions) influences the laws and policies on African women's reproductive rights. Using South Africa as a case study, this paper elaborates on the influence of religion on South African women's reproductive rights and the African world in general.

Source URL (modified on 06/07/2020 - 19:39): <https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2019/religion-african-public-square-examining-role-religion-african-womens-reproductive>

Links

[1] <https://civilresistance.info/author/2686>