

When we are together, we are strongest

In: Abortion Rights Campaign (ARC), 2019

This blog post received criticisms for the failure to include the voices of migrants, people of colour, trans and non-binary people in the Irish referendum campaign. The original blog post is preserved for transparency and accountability. It includes, however, a more recent response acknowledging the criticisms that have been made against it. It is a good source of information for activists on how to establish a more inclusive type of communication on issues related to abortion rights.

Available online at:

<https://www.abortionrightscampaign.ie/2019/05/27/where-we-are-together-we-are-strongest/> [1]

Source URL (modified on 19/05/2020 - 16:41):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2019/when-we-are-together-we-are-strongest>

Links

[1] <https://www.abortionrightscampaign.ie/2019/05/27/where-we-are-together-we-are-strongest/>