

My Name is not Greta Thunberg': Why Diverse Voices Matter in the Climate Movement

In: The Elders, 2020

Xiye Bastida, an 18 y-year old Mexican-Indigenous climate activist recounts her own experiences and stresses the need to recognize the diversity of the climate justice movement in order to achieve a more equitable and sustainable future.

Available online at:

<https://theelders.org/news/my-name-not-greta-thunberg-why-diverse-voices-matter-climate-movement> [1]

Source URL (modified on 03/12/2021 -

18:45):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/2020/my-name-not-greta-thunberg-why-diverse-voices-matter-climate-movement>

Links

[1] <https://theelders.org/news/my-name-not-greta-thunberg-why-diverse-voices-matter-climate-movement>