

Women's Earth and Climate Action Network (WECAN)

WECAN is a climate justice body which stresses that indigenous women, women of colour, women on low incomes and from Global South countries live on 'the front lines of climate change'. Therefore solutions to climate change require not only ending extraction of oil and gas, but 'building a new economy' based on communal and women's rights, right of nature and the rights of future generations. WECAN aims to mobilise women around the world in policy advocacy (for example at UN climate conferences) and in movement building.

Available online at:

<https://www.wecaninternational.org> [1]

Source URL (modified on 20/07/2020 - 17:40):<https://civilresistance.info/biblio-item/womens-earth-and-climate-action-network-wecan>

Links

[1] <https://www.wecaninternational.org>