<http://www.galz.co.zw>

I was born in Gweru Zimbabwe, In 2001 I was trained at the centre for Education and networking in Non violent action” kurve wustrow, I got better understanding of nonviolence and started using non violent strategies in our campaign work which proved very useful specially in a situation like ours where violence is institutionalized. I remain a very active gay activist within GALZ and work with other organisations dealing with victims of violence and Torture. In 2006 I was elected as a council member for WRI, professionally I am an accountant and I take my non violent organising with a sense of being a tactic for survival. I am now based in Harare.
